ERA Stirling Properties agents honored

ERA Stirling Properties honored top agents at its "Beyond Excellence" conference held annually by global franchise leader, ERA Franchise Systems.

To be invited to the conference, 45 total closed units or $100,000 in adjusted gross commission from the previous year had to be achieved. Top honors were given to those who closed 65 total units or $200,000 in adjusted gross commissions.

Those individuals were honored with the Leaders' Circle designation. ERA Stirling Properties' sales associates receiving the Leaders' Circle designation were Ginger Maulden in the Ascension office, Julie Carlisle in the Baton Rouge office, Janice Simar in the Lafayette office and Danny Lyons, Jennifer Rice, and Stevie Mack in the Mandeville office.

Beyond Excellence honorees included 28 ERA Stirling Properties sales associates in offices around Louisiana and Mississippi. Those earning the invitation were: Cathi Williams and Ginger Maulden in the Ascension office; Angela Jordan, Cindy LeBlanc, Dane Daniel, David Richardson, Jill Slicker, Julie Carlisle, Kindra Fletcher, Mel Landry, Nancy Kemske, and Pat Meyer in the Baton Rouge office; Carol Upton-Sieverding, Cheryl Fuselier, Danny Lyons, Jeanne Davis, Jennifer Rice, Jim Lark, and Stevie Mack in the Mandeville office; Nita Naquin and Wendy Benedetto in the Destrehan office; Angie Moorman, Denise Clary, Diana Hebert, Janice Simar, Kathy Welch, and Tory Matthews in the Lafayette office; and Amy Wood in the Mississippi Gulf Coast office in Pass Christian.

"The success of this year's Beyond Excellence Conference attendees and honorees through a particularly challenging year further proves they are leaders not only in their respective markets, but within the ERA community and real estate industry," said Marty Mayer, President and CEO of ERA Stirling Properties.
