A new drugstore is in the works for South Lafayette Parish. Stirling Properties of New Orleans says it is working to build a Walgreen's at the corner of Johnston Street and Doc Duhon Road. Improvements at the intersection past the mall, across from Giles Automotive, have just been completed in the past few weeks.

The company says it is working with City-Parish Government to sub-divide the land at the Southwest corner of the intersection. Then, the land would have to be purchased before Walgreen's could start construction. This would be the sixth Walgreen's in Lafayette - a new CVS opened less than a mile down the road at Johnston and E. Broussard last year.

The new Doc Duhon extension will ultimately connect Johnston Street with a Robley Drive extension, which will go south from Ambassador Caffery near Lowe's.
