The renovated Hammond Square shopping center is a finalist for The International Council of Shopping Centers 2010 U.S. Design & Development Awards. The lifestyle center, developed by Stirling Properties, will compete in the category of best renovation or expansion of an existing project for retail space over 500,000 square feet. Hammond Square, which was built as a 430,000-square-foot enclosed mall, reopened last year as an open-air center nearly double the size. Tenants include Target, Dillard's, Best Buy and Books-A-Million. The winners of the ICSC awards will be announced next month at a conference in Phoenix.
