Local dignitaries gathered this morning at the site of the Stirling Lafayette Shopping Center which will include a Target store and a J. C.. Penney.

Many said it was a project that will change the face of north Lafayette.

"It the beginning of something that's going to be much more than what you're seeing out here today," said city-parish president Joey Durel.

Developer Lewis Stirling said many people from government and the business community came together to make the project a reality.

"It's taken two years and a lot of patient landowners and governmental help to get this thing going," he said.
